The Three Leaders in the Big Contest

THE JUDGES' FINDINGS

We, the undersigned committee of three, appointed to canvass the official votes of the Brainerd Dispatch's Mammoth Prize Contest, do hereby state that, to the best of our knowledge, the contest was conducted on fair and business-like methods, every candidate receiving treatment alike; and upon official count of each vote we find the above named persons to be entitled to prizes as offered by the Brainerd Dispatch.

F. A. FARRAR,
A. E. STOECK,
S. R. ADAIR.

TWENTY PRIZES TO BE AWARDED—ALMOST TWELVE MILLION VOTES CAST DURING ENTIRE CONTEST

By a margin of over one million votes, Miss Bessie Paine is the winner of the Model 19 Buick, "The Dispatch," automobile, offered by the Brainerd Dispatch in the big contest that came to a close last night. She was followed by Miss Clara McGuire, who takes second position among the leaders and is winner of the $500 Mahogany finished Stone piano.

The contest between Miss Paine and Miss McGuire was close and the winner could not be determined until the very last ballot was in and counted. The Brainerd Dispatch's Mammoth contest was the largest of its kind ever held in Minnesota or the Northland. As announced at the beginning of the contest, it was not a "something for nothing" scheme.

The Brainerd Dispatch meant that the prizes should be given as a reward for energy and ambition and did not want itself as being in the pleasant task of giving away valuable prizes from pure motives of philanthropy. It was not a charitable undertaking, but a business proposition. By the means of the contest the Brainerd Dispatch is a welcome visitor come to stay in hundreds of homes not heretofore reached.

The condition of the contest were so easy that it proved attractive from the very start, and before a week had passed the men, women and children were engaged in a friendly rivalry, seeking votes for their favorite; nip and tuck they fought for six weeks, each vote adding to the interest of the contest. At no time from the opening of the battle was it possible to pick the winners, so close was the fight.

From time to time many persons took a guess on the possible winners, but the opinion was hardly expressed before another large bunch of votes was recorded and their choice was found among the lower ones.

DIVISION INTO DISTRICTS

That there should be no disappointment and the efforts of the willing workers will not go unrewarded, even though they did not win either the Mammoth, Capital or Grand prizes, the contest manager divided the city and the surrounding territory into districts and offered prizes in each one of them. This increased the interest in the contest and resulted in the satisfaction of everyone, which is the chief desire of the Dispatch.

MISS BESSIE PAINE

Slowly at first the votes began to come in, then they increased gradually for a while until the workers got thoroughly warmed up and rolled in such numbers that the total ran into millions.

The friends of the contestants desired to see them win, and insisted on making the fact public by voting for them and getting their friends to do likewise. More than one man stole an hour from his office at intervals during the contest to make a personal canvas for some contestant who was his friend and many a dinner dish was left unwashed while the lady of the house went calling, incidentally looking for votes for one of her friends.

VALUE TO ADVERTISERS

No contest in the history of newspaper enterprise has been more successful than this one. In fairness to everyone of the candidates who worked during the contest, it can be said that they have given their almost undivided attention to securing new subscribers and increasing the circulation of the Dispatch. For the past six weeks the Dispatch and its Mammoth contest has been the great topic of conversation in every town and city that is reached by it.

THE WINNER

The public generally is more than ever awakened to the fact that this is a great family paper and today it has thousands of new subscribers who are among its staunchest friends.

BUSINESS MEN SATISFIED

If there is one class of citizens more than another interested in the great contest which has just closed it is the business men and general advertisers who have watched with interest the daily increase in the number of contestants, and who have drawn their own inference as to the wonderful increase in circulation which means an added value to the advertisements. This condition comes as a natural result, as the more readers the Dispatch has, the greater value it possesses as an advertising medium.

WINNERS WELL PLEASED

The winners may well feel proud of the fact that they have run one race in a thousand and have come out with the deserving honor of having outrun and outclassed workers who have themselves done exceedingly well, and would, under ordinary conditions, have had votes enough to win.

The honor attached to winning is considered by some of the candidates as being worth many times the value of the prize itself. Friends of the contestants have boosted them all along the line and nothing seemed too hard for them to do, where a subscription was gotten and the votes given to the favorite.

SOMEONE MUST LOSE

It is a fact greatly to be deplored that all could not win one of the prizes in the contest, especially the mammoth prize, but this is impossible and there is sympathy in plenty for those who have put in days and hours of hard labor and at the end failed to receive a prize. But even then the work was not wasted. The honest striving after success, even though the immediate object is not attained, cannot fail to do good. The enthusiasm and energy which are not lost, but react on one's character, putting iron into the nerve and encouraging and arousing an honest belief in one's ability to undertake and carry to success any task which presents itself.

MEETING NOW IN FULL SWING

Conservationists Hold Convention at Pierre, S. D.

HERRIED UNABLE TO PRESIDE

Former Governor Sends Telegram of Regret and A. E. Chamberlain Opens the Meeting, Which is Attended by Hundreds of People—Minnesota Irrigation Commissioner Delivers an Address.

Pierre, S. D., June 30.—Lat trains brought over 500 people to the conservation meeting, which is in full swing. Ex-Governor Herried, who was to preside at the afternoon meeting, sent a telegram of regret and in his place the meeting was opened by A. E. Chamberlain of the county institute commission with a few remarks on the objects of the meeting.

Outside of the address of welcome by Governor Vessey and the set addresses of George Welsh, Minnesota commissioner of immigration; Professor Larson of the state agricultural school and State Engineer Lea the only business was that of the appointment of a committee on resolutions, the selections being Frank M. Byrne of Faulk, W. E. C. McCain of Pennington, Mark C. Rich of Fall River, J. E. Pickels of Clark, G. W. Merry of Grant, Tore Tegen of Minnehaha, Isaac Lincoln of Brown, G. G. Davis of Perkins, I. A. George of Lawrence, T. M. Simmons of Beadle, C. G. Anderson of Aurora, Dr. Kutewsky of Spink and M. P. Beebe of Edmunds. These men are wrestling with the ideas which different ones think should be included in the resolutions of the congress.

Work Yet in Its Infancy.

State Engineer Lea covered his work of actual experience in the subject of irrigation, which is being carried on most effectively in the extreme western portion of the state. While this work is yet in its infancy in South Dakota at the present time over 125,000 acres are being cultivated under irrigation in the state and with the completion of the Belle Fourche plant the area will be largely increased.

Professor Cook of the Spanish normal school spoke in the evening on "Horticulture in the Black Hills." Senator Coe I. Crawford, who presided at the evening session, said conservation was a question of the later days, not looked upon by our fathers and our fathers' fathers, who did not even dream that we would need consideration of the subject. But the day has come, he said, when not only conservation but reclamation is now concerning the people of the country.

There was a little flurry at the evening meeting. A. J. McCain made an attack on the government forest reserve service in the Black Hills reserve. This called out a protest from a delegate that politics was being introduced.

ROOSEVELT FAVORS BILL

Hopes the Cobb Measure Will Become a Law.

New York, June 30.—Mr. Roosevelt has made his first public utterance on a political subject since his return from Europe on June 18. In a telegram from Cambridge, Mass., he advocated the enactment, with certain amendments, of the Cobb direct nomination bill, now before the extraordinary sessions of the New York legislature. The telegram, which is addressed to Lloyd C. Griscom, follows:

"During the past week great numbers of Republicans and of independent voters from all over the state have written me, urging the passage of the direct primary legislation. I have learned your views from your representative. It seems to me that the Cobb bill with the amendments proposed by you meets the needs of the situation. I think the people demand it. I most earnestly hope that it will be enacted into law."

KINGMAN NAMED COMMANDER

South Dakota G. A. R. at Watertown Encampment Chooses Officers.

Watertown, S. D., June 30.—Captain N. H. Kingman of Selby was elected department commander of the South Dakota Grand Army of the Republic at the twenty-seventh annual encampment in session here. Captain M. J. Hawley of Watertown was elected senior vice commander and Simon Price of Yankton vice commander. Mitchell won over Pierre for next year's encampment. Veterans were guests of the city on an excursion to Lake Kampeska.

Roosevelt Will Speak.

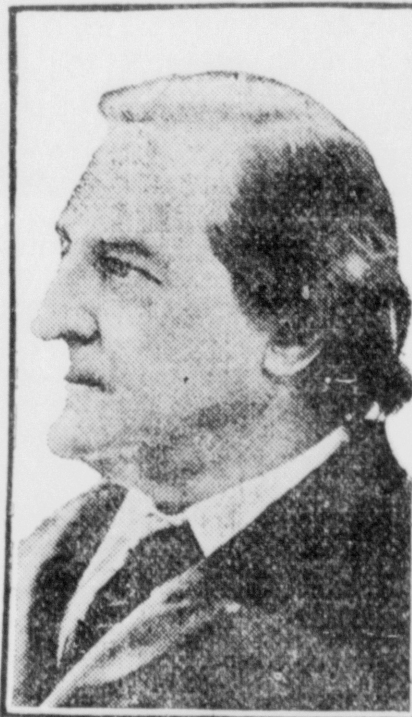

Milwaukee, June 30.—Former President Roosevelt will be the guest of the Milwaukee Press club on Sept. 7, the occasion being the celebration of the club's silver jubilee.

Greatest Battles of History.

Burke in his letter on "Natural Society" says that Sylla destroyed 300,000 men in each of three battles, one being at Cherson. The Persians are said to have lost 230,000 men at Platana. II Chronicles xlii, 17, records 500,000 slain on one side, which, however, may not have been in a single battle. I Kings xx, 26, tells of 100,000 men being killed on one side in a single day.

TOWN DESTROYED BY FOREST FIRE

Another City Isolated and May Have Been Burned.

Winnipeg, June 30.—The Canadian Northern wires are down east of here on account of the bush fires and latest reports say Lavallee is cut off by fires and cannot be reached by wire.

Lavallee, New Ont., June 30.—Bad forest fires are raging in this vicinity and the town of Devil was burned, but without loss of life. The people made their escape as best they could and got to a clearing, where they and some of their smaller household effects were rescued by a Canadian Northern train.

This town is surrounded by flames and smoke and fears are entertained that it also will be destroyed. A muskeg is burning in the vicinity of Fort William and is rapidly spreading. A large quantity of standing timber has been destroyed, as well as a quantity of piled timber and seven box cars laden with lumber.

Fort William, June 30.—Forest fires are threatening towns in this vicinity and Fort William is clouded with smoke. It is necessary to turn on the big street lights because of darkness. The fires are getting worse at Silver Mountain, twenty miles out.

Decision Sends Stocks Down.

New York, June 30.—The stock market was seized with another spasm of weakness, following the announcement from Washington that the interstate commerce commission had declared certain rate schedules of the Harriman and Hill lines to be excessive and unreasonable. Prices for most of the active issues went to the lowest prices of the year and in some instances lower than in 1909.

Would Irrigate 57,000 Acres.

Rapid City, S. D., June 30.—Local men, with the addition of some outside capital, are planning a large private irrigation scheme by which it is hoped to put the water on 57,000 acres of land west of this city between the lines of the Northwestern and the St. Paul railroads. These plans include the building of a lake between Owanka and Creston.

Diamonds.

In buying and selling diamonds the weight of the gems is gauged by a scale peculiar to this trade only.

Berger, field secretary, of Cleveland, O., was the principal speaker present. He gave several addresses and lectures on the Sunday school and alliance work. During the past year the alliances raised over $1,318 for missionary and benevolent purposes. The Twin Brooks society won the banner for raising the most missionary money per member. The next annual convention will convene again at Big Stone Lake June 16-20, 1911.

The officers elected are: President, Rev. F. F. Schaeffer, Langford, S. D.; first vice president, Rev. G. E. Bohner, Cavalier, N. D.; second vice president, Rev. J. J. Schaeffer, Clear Lake, S. MAKES TRACK HIS DEATH BED

Man Said to Be H. P. Buleas of St. Paul Killed by Train.

Chippewa Falls Wis., June 30.—H. P. Buleas, aged forty years, was killed as he lay on the St. Paul track south of Durand, near Treynon Junction. He had removed all his clothing except his shoes, and had placed the clothing between the rails for a bed. He lay on this, and, resting his head on one rail and his feet on the other, he faced the swiftly approaching passenger engine and met a horrible death. An identification card in the man's pocket read, H. P. Buleas, 207 Seventh street, St. Paul. Buleas had complained of illness caused by the heat. It is believed he became temporarily deranged.

Big Pearl Is Found.

La Crosse, Wis., June 30.—Harvey Boyle, a clam fisherman, found a perfectly round pearl weighing twenty-three grains near the La Crosse harbor while clamming. He refused $300 cash for it and buyers say it is easily worth $500.

Those in Red River Valley in Serious Condition.

PLAYS HAVOC WITH FIELDS

Prominent Farmer Says Hot Wind Has Damaged Grain—Early Grain Has Begun to Head and Is Being Watched With Much Concern. Crops in North and South Dakota Greatly Benefitted by Showers.

East Grand Forks, Minn., June 30.—The condition of the crops in the Red River valley is serious. Rain is needed badly.

The early grain has received the greatest damage, while that sown later is still in a good condition, and with rain will turn out well. The early grain has already begun to head, and is being watched with a great deal of concern.

According to one report, the grain, after having reached an average maximum height of six inches, has been maturing too early.

The condition of this grain is being watched with a great deal of anxiety throughout this section. Farmers must depend, perhaps almost entirely, on this grain, and the next few weeks will indeed be anxious ones for all. It has been heading well, and if conditions do not grow worse there are prospects for at least half a crop.

A prominent farmer stated that Wednesday had been the hardest on the crop so far, a hot wind playing havoc in the fields. Vegetables are also burned up as soon as they appear above the ground, and consequently very few are reaching the market. Well known nurserymen report that everything is dry and hot, and that two-thirds of the strawberry crop has been destroyed by the drought.

HELP CROPS A GREAT DEAL

Rains Reported in North and South Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 30.—Rain fell in Bottineau, Rolette, Towner, Cavalier, Walsh and Pembina counties, helping the crops a great deal.

Bowman, N. D., June 30.—Crop conditions in this section of the state are nearly as good as last year. All early grain is about to head and late flax is in good condition. Two inches of rain fell this week and the general indications are that the yield this season will be equal to the bumper crop raised in this section of the state last season.

Deadwood, S. D., June 30.—Light showers throughout Western South Dakota partially broke the drought. The farmers are feeling better, as more rain is threatened.

HUSBAND KILLS YOUNG WIFE

Jealousy Motive for Murder in St. Paul.

St. Paul, June 30.—Jealousy because of the popularity of Florence, his eighteen-year-old bride, Harry Bunce, an Englishman, shot her during a quarrel at her home, the 32-caliber bullet inflicting a wound in her left temple from which she died a few minutes after she was taken to the city hospital. The tragedy was enacted in the presence of Mrs. Bunce's mother, Mrs. Arch Gilbert, who has been an invalid for many years and was unable to go for help or aid her daughter when the quarrel began.

Bunce stood in a daze for a moment after the shooting, apparently hardly realizing what he had done. Then he suddenly knelt by his wife's side and covered her face with kisses. "Now I am going to kill myself," he shouted, and when Mrs. Gilbert begged him to go he retired to the kitchen and fired one shot, evidently into the wall, for he was not hurt when Officer Quigley burst through the door a few minutes later in response to Mrs. Gilbert's cries.

A hasty marriage and four months of unhappy wedded life preceded the quarrel which ended in the shooting.

Seven Perish in Flood.

Saylorsville, Ky., June 30.—Caught by the raging waters of Licking river, swollen by recent rains and a cloud-burst, seven persons are known to have lost their lives by drowning and many others are reported missing, including three entire families. The known dead include Roach Gayhart and wife and baby and three men.

West Point Gray.

The origin of the gray uniforms worn by the cadets at West Point dates back to the war of 1812-14, when the commissary general of the army could not procure the blue cloth required for General Winfield Scott's brigade, and so they were clad in gray. So distinguished was the conduct of that brigade at Lundy's Lane and Chippewa that when, after the war of 1812, a reorganization of West Point Military academy was made, out of compliment to General Scott and his brigade the uniform of the corps of cadets was changed from blue to gray.

NO MONEY FOR INVESTIGATION

Senate Did Not appropriate Any for Committee.

ANNOYED AT THE OVERSIGHT

Members of the Senate Body Appointed to Inquire into the Charges of Bribery Made by Senator Gore Will Not Meet Until Congress Again Assembles—House Committee Will Conduct Inquiry.

Washington, June 30.—It has just leaked out that the members of the senate committee appointed to probe the Gore charges, in which bribery was alleged in connection with Oklahoma Indian contracts, expressed great annoyance Monday when it dawned on them that they had not been provided with funds to defray the cost of their labors. When the resolution of inquiry was passed Saturday night Senators Hale and Hughes stated that no appropriation was desired. This evidently escaped the notice of Senator Jones of Washington and the other members of the committee. The committee, therefore, has the authority to make an investigation, but the wherewithal is lacking. Accordingly the committee will not meet until congress assembles in December. Despite the thoughtlessness of the senate, there will be an inquiry into Indian affairs in Oklahoma. The house, in creating its committee of inquiry, gave it broad powers as well as funds, with which to make its researches. No direct appropriation was made, but the house resolution provided that all the expenses of the committee should be paid out of the house contingent fund, and this is ample for all the purposes of the committee.

Data is now being prepared in the interior department for the use of the house committee. Copies of all contracts made with the Oklahoma Indians, including those of J. P. McMurray, Ormsby McHarg and many others, will be placed in the hands of the committee.

Western members conversant with Indian affairs express the belief that the approaching inquiry will result in the Oklahoma Indians being deprived of counsel whose services are confined to practice before the interior department and congressional committees. Western members and government officials believe that the interests of the Indians will be subserved if the reds are denied the right to retain counsel.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLOSION

Kills a St. Paul Woman and Injures Her Relatives.

St. Paul, June 30.—Mrs. Sophia Krenz, wife of Frank H. Krenz of St. Paul, was burned to death as the result of a gasoline stove explosion in her father's home at Kerriek, near Bruno, Minn.

She was filling the reservoir of the stove at the time from a can which she supposed contained kerosene oil. It was gasoline and an explosion resulted, which set her clothing on fire, demolished the house and severely injured the woman's relatives.

Ten Horses Perish.

Portal, N. D., June 30.—By a terrific wind which swept over this section the big barn on the T. B. Wadlington farm was demolished and four horses were killed. At the Alex Patterson farm another barn was destroyed, but all the horses escaped. At Rolla six horses were cremated in a fire which destroyed the large barn on the George G. Speelman farm.

Heat Fatal to Farmer.

Baraboo, Wis., June 30.—John Stabauer, a well known farmer, did not return home at night and, after a search his body was found in the woods near his home. Evidently he had succumbed to the heat. He was seventy years old.

CRUSHED AT CROSBY SHAFT

Harry Sievy Badly Injured by Falling
Steel Forms of Concrete
Shaft

8 STEEL SHEETS FALL ON HIM

Injured Man is Now at Deer-
wood Hospital—His Companion
Unhurt

Crosby, Minn., June 29—Harry Sievy, unmarried, age 37 years, a resident of Aitkin employed on the new concrete shaft at Crosby was badly injured at 11 o'clock this morning by being caught under nine falling sheets of steel used in making the outer forms for the cement work.

The Dispatch representative interviewed Mr. Sievy four hours after the accident.

Mr. Sievy's story is as follows: He and a fellow worker, Louis Larson, were engaged in cleaning steel sections which are used to make the outer form of the cement shaft. The circumference of the shaft measures 27 feet. These circular sections are 5 feet high, and 8 inches thick are bolted together and make the outside circumference against which the cement is thrown. The inner form of the shaft is of wood and makes a shaft opening 11x15 feet.

Th men had the steel forms stacked in a row and were cleaning them when the cable of the dredger caught one end of the sheets and they fell like a stack of cards. Larson escaped but Sievy was caught in the trap and backed up as best he could and saved his head from getting mashed. He fell on a steel sheet and the other eight sheets came pounding down on him hurting his chest, his breast, back, thighs, knees and other places.

As he lay in bed he could move his head and hands slightly. The full extent of his injuries will not be known for some time. He spoke brokenly and said he suffered much pain. After the short interview he fell asleep.

Children Court Death

Alderman P. M. Zakariassen of the Fourth ward calls attention to the common practice indulged in by many small children of running in front of moving automobiles and teams and seeing how narrowly they can escape being run over. Another practice to be discouraged is the habit of hanging on automobiles and wagons. Some methods of prevention should be adopted before some child is ground to death through this foolhardy and dangerous pastime.

Other residents also call attention to the habit children have formed of playing on the railway crossing at Oak street.

Jordan-Canfield

A largely attended wedding took place at 9 o'clock last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Canfield, 116 2nd avenue N. E., when their daughter, Florence V., was united in marriage to Frank H. Jordan of this city. The whole ceremony was carried out with precision and great delight was added thereto by it.

The bride was conducted to the beautifully arranged marriage altar which had been banked with ferns and artistically arranged forest flowers, by her father, who gave her away. The bridal company stood beneath a suspended wreath of flowers of various hues, the bride being assisted by Miss Alice Ruth Miner, and the bridegroom by his brother William, which made a very pretty setting as the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march was being rendered by Miss Florence A. Smith. The lines of the shorter ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church were read by the Rev. Charles Fox Davis, after which followed the customary congratulations. Both the bride and her maid were prettily gowned in pure white and carried large daisies. After the ceremony about 75 sat down to a wedding supper and the evening was spent mirthfully.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jordan, St. Mathias; Alfred Canfield, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Doble, Royalton; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young, Osage; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Aspholm, Leorch.

The young couple received a large number of excellent wedding gifts from their many friends. The bride is quite well known having been one of the Crow Wing teachers for the past two years, and Mr. Jordan being with the firm of C. W. Koering. They will make their home in this city, being home to their friends next week in N. E. Brainerd.

Brown-Wood

The parlors of the Windsor hotel was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 10:30 this morning, the young couple being, John Gamble Brown, now of this city, late of Belfast, Ireland, and Miss Annie McLellan, of Londonderry, Ireland, the latter having arrived in Brainerd on Tuesday evening of this week.

The ceremony was performed amid a profusion of palms and ferns which had been improvised into a bewitching marriage altar, and interspersed with hot-house flowers. As the rich music of the Lohengrin wedding march was being played by Miss Florence Smith, the bride and bridegroom preceded by Miss Marion Davis as ring bearer, James McIlroy, attendant to the ring bearer, Miss Ellen Halden, of Two Harbors, bridesmaid, and Arthur A. Hall as best man, slowly proceeded to where the vows were spoken as they were surrounded by a goodly company of friends. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Starritt, proprietors of the Windsor hotel, served a light luncheon to which 12 sat down.

Mrs. Brown had a long trip before her when she started for this city for Londonderry, Ireland, but stated that she had enjoyed every mile of the several thousands of miles over sea and land she had journeyed to reach Brainerd. She left Londonderry, Ireland, on June 18th, on the S. S. Caledonia, of the Anchor Line, reaching New York, June 26, and Brainerd on Tuesday evening, June 28.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for Duluth and Minneapolis and will return to this city next week to make their home on Grove street. Upon their return to Brainerd, the members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal choir will give them a reception, Mr. Brown being one of the choir of that church. The Rev. Charles Fox Davis was the officiating clergyman.

And then again, one can make improvements from time to time and not notice the expense—only when you find a buyer—getting more than your rent free too.

Let me speak a word to the man that has a home and a little money that we have received our share of sales in city property and have no client that could not make money by selling now—we have the facts.

A Queen Who Was a King.

Only once in the history of the world has a queen been officially known as a king. This was in Hungary when the Hungarians gave the name of king to their Queen Mary in order to avoid the infamy which the laws of that country cast upon those who are governed by women. She bore the title of King Mary till her marriage with Sigismund. After that she took the title of queen.

Hard on the Minister's Wife.

A Scottish minister had returned home from a long holiday trip on which he had been accompanied by his wife. At a prayer meeting shortly afterward an elder offered up thanks for the minister's safe return, but unfortunately put his foot in it. "O Lord," he said, "we thank thee for bringing our pastor safe home, and his dear wife, too. O Lord, for thou preservest man and beast!"

A BROKEN DRIVING ROD.

The Disaster Most Dreaded by the Locomotive Engineer.

The close calls that whiten the engineer's hair are mostly due to some one else's error or oversight which he cannot foresee or prevent. That many of these close calls do not result fatally is due to the engineer's swift and skillful meeting of the emergency.

The great driving wheels on which most of the enormous weight on the locomotive rests are connected by massive jointed bars of forged steel. The ends of these are attached to the wheels about halfway between the axis and circumference. It is through these bars, called driving rods, that the wheels receive their impulse from the imprisoned steam. These rods weigh thousands of pounds each. Occasionally one of their fastenings will break, and then every revolution of the wheel to which the other end is attached will send the rod swinging like a titan's flail, beating down 300 strokes a minute. Nothing can withstand these awful blows. They tear up the track below and shatter the engine above, especially the cab where rides the engineer. No disaster comes so unexpectedly and is so much dreaded as this. Almost invariably it happens when the engine is running at high speed. When a driver breaks it is a miracle if the men in the cab escape with their lives. If they do survive and by their heroism succeed in stopping the train and avoiding a wreck despite the rain of blows from this huge flail of steel their act brings forth a greater measure of praise than almost any other form of bravery that the railroad knows.

Only the other day one of the driving rods of a fast passenger locomotive broke while the train was running more than sixty miles an hour down the steep grades of Plover mountain. In an instant the whirling bar of steel had smashed the cab and broken the controlling mechanism, so that it was impossible to bring the train to a stop by ordinary means. The great locomotive lunged forward like a runaway horse that had thrown its rider. In some way, however, Lutz, the engineer, had escaped injury. He crept to the opposite side of the cab and climbed out through the little window upon the boiler to try to reach some of the controlling apparatus from the outside. He was working himself astride along the scorching boiler when suddenly the engine struck a curve, which it took at terrific speed. The shock half threw the engineer from his perilous position, but he saved himself by grasping the bell rope. Then he worked himself down along the uninjured side of the swaying locomotive to where he could open one of the principal steam valves. A cloud of vapor rushed forth with a tremendous roar. Although robbed of its power, the locomotive did not slacken speed until it reached the bottom of the grade. Then little by little the thrashing of the great driving rod, which was pounding the upper part of the engine to pieces, grew slower, and finally it stopped. No one was killed or injured, and not a passenger in the long train knew until it was over of the danger that had been avoided so narrowly. —Thaddeus S. Dayton in Harper's Weekly.

A Rare Old Book.

The second book printed in the English language was "The Game and Playe of the Chess," which the title page says was "Fynnyshid the last day of Marche, the yer of our lord god a thousand four hundred and LXXIIII." Only twelve copies of the work are now known to exist. In 1813 an Englishman of the name of Alchorne sold his copy for a sum equal to $270 in United States currency. Fifty-six years later, in 1869, the same volume (an imperfect copy) was sold for $2,150. The British museum has refused an offer of $10,000 for its copy, which is imperfect to the extent of having seven leaves missing.

The Making of Words.

Dean Swift protested against "speculations, operations, preliminaries, ambassadors, palisades, communication, circumvallation, battalions," as new-fangled expressions brought into common use by the war of his day. Today nearly all these are the most orthodox English. In his time "mob" seems commonly to have been written "mob," and "plizz" also had the doubled consonant. Hence his complaint that "we cram one syllable and cut off the rest, as the owl fattened her mice after she had bit off their legs to prevent them from running away."

Pater—Can you give my daughter the comforts to which she has been accustomed? Sutor—Yes, sir. I've breakfasted at your house, and I'm certain that I can complain about the coffee, read the paper, demand the discharge of the cook and announce that I'll dine at the club.—New York Journal.

A Clean Cut.

Sykes—My eyes met hers, and, would you believe it, she cut me! Tykes—How very rude! Who is she? Sykes—Oh, a lady barber. She was shaving me, and this is the cut.—London Telegraph.

Serious Enough Business.

"Where's your father?" asked the man on horseback.

"Up the river fishin'!" answered the boy.

"Where's your big brother?"

"Down the river fishin'."

"What are you doing?"

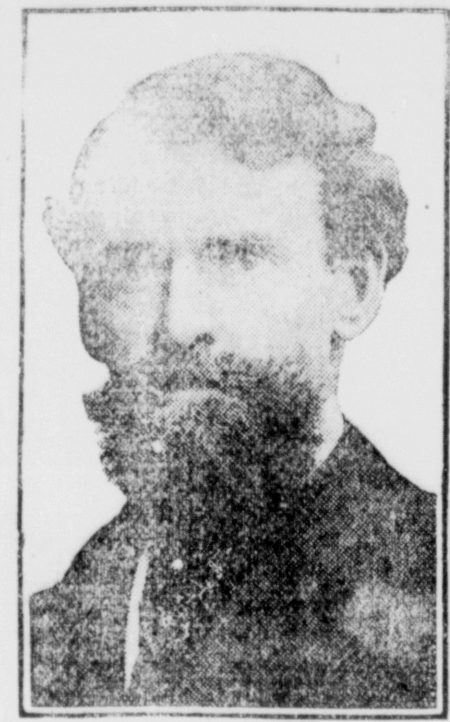

"Diggin' bait."

"Hasn't your family anything to do but amuse itself?"

"Mister, if you think we're doin' this for fun you wait 'n' hear what maw says if we come home without any fish."—Washington Star.

WILLIAM A. CLARK.

Desires to Return to United States Senate.

WOULD RETURN TO SENATE

William A. Clark to Enter Fight in Montana.

Washington, June 30.—A small political sensation was created here by the news that former Senator William A. Clark of Montana is a candidate for the senatorship now held by the veteran Thomas A. Carter. The copper king is very much in earnest, it is said, and is prepared to go to the limit in a fight to return to the senate. In view of the circumstances under which he made his first appearance on the stage of national politics that means that he will open a "barrel" that is bottomless and, in the opinion of those familiar with the situation in Montana, it will mean Senator Carter's retirement.

There was a small Democratic majority in the last Montana legislature and that argues more than an even chance for the Democrats carrying the legislature this fall with Clark in the field. Long in advance of the election the Democrats will have an unlimited campaign fund and it is a matter of record that money can work wonders in Montana. Clark's mines worked wonders there ten years ago. He engaged in one of the spectacular struggles in American political history with the late Marcus A. Daly with the senatorship as the prize, Daly being equally well supplied with money and equally willing to spend it. Clark won the fight.

HONORS APPEAR TO BE ABOUT EVEN

Stalwarts and Progressives Divide Honors in North Dakota.

Bismarck, N. D., June 30.—There will be no possibility of giving accurate figures on the vote in the primaries in North Dakota for a day or so, as all wires in the western part of the state are down on account of a severe electrical rain and wind storm.

Reports received before the wires went down were to the effect that McCumber, a stalwart, and Gronna, a progressive, will be nominated as United States senators and Hanna, a stalwart, and Heigenson, a progressive, for congress. C. A. Johnson, a stalwart, will be nominated for governor. Miller, progressive, for attorney general, and Taylor, stalwart, for superintendent of schools. For insurance commissioner Walt Taylor is nominated, and for commissioner of agriculture and labor the present incumbent, Gilbreath, will be nominated. Henry, a stalwart, and Norton, progressive, are running neck and neck for secretary of state.

No returns are being sent in yet for judges of the supreme court, and not a single precinct has given any Democratic figures. Burdick, a progressive, will undoubtedly be nominated for lieutenant governor, and Brightbill the present state auditor, will be re-nominated, while State Treasurer Bickford will be defeated by Gunder Olson by the vote in the eastern part of the state.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 30.—Returns are coming in slowly from the northern part of the state, but it is already apparent that the progressive Republicans are in the lead, though there is a bad split on several of the offices.

For the United States senate, Gronna and Marshall, insurgents, carried Grand Forks, Walsh, Ramsey and Benson counties, while Ward county will go for McCumber very strong. Pembina county, as well as Ward county, appears to have given McCumber a majority, making the fight between the stalwart and Marshall decidedly close. Gronna will carry Nelson county by about 250 majority.

The congressional situation is in a bad muddle and it will be several days before the result can be positively known.

C. A. Johnson, the stalwart candidate for governor, is fighting J. A. Buchanan hard and out of seventy scattering precincts heard from Johnson had 1,424 and Buchanan had 1,422.

Boy's Apt Reply.

"One of the prettiest compliments I have ever had paid to me," said Mme. Meiba, "was at one of the smaller Australian towns—Mount Morgan by name. Two little boys were unable to gain admission to the hall, and I let them come in and sit behind the orchestra. At the end of the concert I told them that they owed me a guinea apiece. The older of the two rose to his feet, saluted, and said: 'Madame, we owe you much more than that.' Don't you think that was a great compliment?" said Mme. Meiba.

Why Have an Overheated Kitchen in Summer?

When the sultry days come and the coal range makes the kitchen almost unbearable and cooking a dreaded task, put out the range fire and try the newest method of cooking in hot weather—use a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

What a contrast! The kitchen no longer is stifling hot, the work is now done with comfort, and the housewife is not worn out with the heat.

She saves her strength, keeps her health and is better able to enjoy the summer.

The New Perfection does everything that any other stove can do—all the family cooking, baking, washing and ironing. No smoke, no dust, no odor. Heat is applied directly and not wasted. A turn, and the flame is out.

The New Perfection stove has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for the coffee pot or saucepans, and nicked towel racks.

It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove very attractive and invites cleanliness. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Cautionary Note:—Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."
